

CONAHEC - COIL International Faculty Collaboration for Teaching Climate Resilience

CONFIRMATION OF INSTITUTIONAL SUPPORT

Thank you for supporting the internationalization and professional development of your faculty members. The participation of a faculty member in this International Faculty Collaboration program will open the doors to your institution to create meaningful international faculty collaborations with partner institutions around the world. The small investment made by your institution will translate to deeper and more meaningful future collaborations, exposure of students to international faculty, internationalization of your curriculum and interdepartmental and interinstitutional collaboration, among other benefits.
